with a builet through his breast and died in five minutes. Savario Leo, the brother, was shot mortally through the right lung, and Frank Leo, the cousin, was shot in the abdomen and will probably die. Baginski declared that the Italians were about to assault him for attempting to arrest Biasio Leo; that he feared for his own life and shot in self-defence. Eyewitnesses of the affair tell a different story.

Biasio Leo had been in America only seven weeks, and today met his brother for the first time in several years. He could not speak English. The men were on the sidewalk chattering when the officer ordered them to move on. They did not obey and he seized Biasio saying: "Come along with me." The brother and cousin grabbed their relative, when Baginski pulled his revolver and began shooting. At the first shot Biasio Leo fell and two more shots were sufficient to settle the others. Baginssnot blasso Lee tell and two more snots were sufficient to sectile the others. Baginski declares that he had authority from Chief Kipley to shoot if in danger. Fintal Result of Carelessly Handling a Revolver.

Newburg, N. Y., May 18.—John R. Terrett, of Clinton, N. Y., a student in Prof. Stone's preparatory school at Cornwall, N. Y., was shot by Clifford A. Sloan, a fellowstudent, Monday night and died yesterday.

Terrett and Sloan were in the same room. Terrett was studying and Sloan was handling a revolver. He pointed it at Terrett and pulled the trigger. Sloan says he did not know the weapon was loaded.

The bullet entered Terrett's abdomen. Dr. Harrison, of Cornwall, and Dr. Howell, of this city, operated and thought at first their patient would recover, but he failed steadily after the first few hours.

Coroner John J. Herrott, of this city, is investigating the shooting.

"It has been found that the distance given in the salling directions are in error as follows: From Para to Manaos, given as $55 miles, should be increased by 55; from Manaos to Tapayinga, by 57; from Tapayinga to Yquites, by 32 miles, all due to the changes in the channel from time to time, and these correct distances will apply only for two or three years; consequently, in making the trip from Para to Yquites, the Wilmington has steamed 21,000 miles up the Amazon and its tributaries, against an adverse current averaging for the entire distance about three knots. Referring to same page of sailing directions, some of the towns entered directions, some of the towns entered thereon as existing do not now exist, and others take their places. These towns ap-pear to be as changing as the river itself, but the pilots, keeping run of the old sites, pointed them out as the Wilmington pro-

Unless otherwise instructed, upon return to Manaos I shall fill up with coal, if obtainable, obtain Madeira River pilots, and proceed to San Antonia, the head of navigation on that river. I expect to reach Para, concluding the Amazon cruise, between the 5th and 10th of May.
